

Love Quotes

*Love is an amazingly interesting thing
If served up properly, it makes your heart sing.
But somehow, it seems along the way
We lost love's real meaning, how sad to say!
We forgot that love is an action – not a word
To think otherwise is really absurd.
We spend a lot of time not giving love a thought
Too busy buying things, when love cannot be bought.
Love is simply kindness, truth, respect and purity
Safety, enthusiasm, understanding and sincerity.
Remember, we always have an inside mentor
Because love is the core that lives in our center.*

For those who know how to truly love are gifted great happiness.

Faith is the best medicine when in the midst of ill-mannered situations.

Never be afraid at times to sacrifice – it is part of love's journey.

Being conscious of others brings contentment and peace.

Forgiveness is the greatest gift we can give to ourselves.

Loving one person properly is as mighty as loving one hundred.

Do not stay stuck waiting for another to help – just jump in!

Caring for the unwanted, no matter who or what is enlightenment.

Money without a good intention is worthless.

Do not discard what others might want or need.

To be meek and humble is to be grand and noble.

Never be of service to be famous.

One must be willing to empty in order to become full.

Taking care of those less fortunate ensures our good karma.

There is no one who has not felt lonely at one time or another.

The world today is hungering for caring and thirsty for sharing.

Without our ability to forgive, love cannot be sustained.

Miracles must be believed to be seen.

Service with a smile – nothing can be higher!

For compassion to exist, we must depend on our hearts, not our heads.

Being mean comes with a price – so wise up and be wonderfully nice.

Our genuineness is the truth of our ingenuity and our genius.

Generosity creates the doorway of other's prayers being answered.

Perseverance is the determination not to let anything become a detriment to our destiny.

Love cannot survive without respect.

Doubt diminishes dreams.

Our virtue is empowered when our intentions are pure.

To isolate is to not relate, which inevitably seals a lonely fate!

Charity transforms a dull life into a divine life.

Nothing can be given to those who keep their arms closed.

Feeling resentful is but an earlier hell.

Enthusiasm is being fully inspired and passionately wired.

We must never let others invade our sense of what is right.

Be an eagle that is soaring – not a human that is boring!

Our indwelling spirit reveals itself through our integrity.

Trust is built and maintained on the microscopic truth.

Use better judgement – don't judge!

One pure interruption can stop a multitude of corruption.

It is never worth sacrificing something worthy or worthwhile.

When we are liberated from pessimism, we are liberated.