

Love Quotes

Love promises a great future, no matter the past.

Love never differentiates between race, sex or religion.

Love in a relationship is secured when feeling safe.

Love to love.

Do not love in order to be loved.

Love is innocent but needs intelligence.

Love is not logical – it is genuine.

Loving someone today can change their entire tomorrow.

Love does not judge, but it is useful in sound judgment.

Love cannot breathe without truth.

We incarnated solely to learn about love.

We need to incorporate love into the corporate world.

Life without love is mere existence.

When we leave this world, as we all will, the only thing that matters is how well we have loved.

Look at what we love about someone when facing what we don't love about them.

When unsure – plan lovingly.

Love quickens our good karma.

No love – no miracles!

The twists and turns of life come to teach us unconditional love.

Love is the ticket to eternal freedom.

We are shaped and developed by what we love.

The cure to all ills, wrongs, sorrows and crimes is love.

Love cannot survive if we sell our souls.

Love is the fragrance of life that heals the fragments of life.

Make it a promise that our first love is our self-love.

Love does not have a season; nor does it require a reason.

We are shaped and developed by what we love.

Love, or lack of it can change nature.

There is nothing holier than the consciousness of love.

Love strengthens our resolve to heal our world.